Description of the Course:

This course together with BUGEN 3707 (Professional Practice 1) supports 1400-1600 hours of professional placement. This is a workplace practice-based course that aims to enhance students' level of career readiness. As part of this course and BUGEN 3707, the students will complete professional placement normally for a duration of between 38 and 42 weeks within a host organisation. The host organisation will normally be digitally focussed and so qualify as a cognitive enterprise. The duration of placement will be spread over BUGEN 3707 and BUGEN 3708 course enrolments. During the professional placement, students will be provided with the opportunity to apply, in the workplace, the knowledge they have acquired through their degree program completed to that time. The professional placement will provide students with the opportunity to gain valuable insights into a contemporary workplace (cognitive enterprise) including an appreciation of the dynamics of such organisations, the impact of the external or competitive environment on strategy of such organisations as well as values, attitudes, and skills important to successfully run these organisations.
