Description of the Course:

This course provides the opportunity for students to pursue a placement or internship (Work Integrated Learning experience) with an arts organisation, school, local gallery or other community organisation as negotiated with the group/organisation and the Course Coordinator. This course takes advantage of the regional location of our campuses and the connections students may have with local groups and organisations. To undertake this course, students must initiate the proposal, speak with the group concerned, and the Course Coordinator, before submitting a summary and detailed plan for the internship. Full details of the planning process, required documentation and permissions to undertake this course are provided in the course description. The course aims to provide students with a Work Integrated Learning experience through which the student will become familiar with the commitment required, and the requisite responsibilities, of an arts worker in the community more broadly.
