Course Title: SUCCESSFUL LEARNING AT UNIVERSITY
Course ID: FEAFN1001
Credit Points: 15.00
Prerequisite(s): Nil
Co-requisite(s): Nil
Exclusion(s): Nil
ASCED: 079999

Description of the Course:
This course engages first year university students with the complex concepts of student identities, learner agency, learner mindset and motivation, and links these concepts to successful learning. Students will critically examine the nature and functions of universities, the culture and expectations at university, and university students as active and politically informed individuals. From a personal and professional standpoint, students will examine the experiences and motivations of people in accessing higher education and how universities are responding (or should respond) to the needs of students with diverse backgrounds. The course will enable students to consider the nature of knowledge and basic learning theories. By completing this introductory course undergraduate students will develop an array of basic academic, personal and professional skills and learning strategies. These include, but are not limited to - understanding their learning strengths and preferences, developing metacognition, ensuring academic integrity, locating and using academic literature, digital literacies, goal setting and time management, working collaboratively, and recognising the resources and facilities that exist within the university environment that can be utilised to assist personal learning.

Grade Scheme: Graded (HD, D, C, etc.)

Work Experience:
No work experience: Student is not undertaking work experience in industry.

Placement Component: No

Supplementary Assessment: Yes
Where supplementary assessment is available a student must have failed overall in the course but gained a final mark of 45 per cent or above and submitted all major assessment tasks.

Graduate Attributes

The Federation University FedUni graduate attributes (GA) are entrenched in the Higher Education Graduate Attributes Policy (LT1228). FedUni graduates develop these graduate attributes through their engagement in explicit learning and teaching and assessment tasks that are embedded in all FedUni programs. Graduate attribute attainment typically follows an incremental development process mapped through program progression. One or more graduate attributes must be evident in the specified learning outcomes and assessment for each FedUni course, and all attributes must be directly assessed in each program.
